

2022 Project Grants

Max Bell Foundation

General Instructions

If at any time you would like to download this form to work on off-line, simply click "Question List" above. Once completed, you can return to this form and cut and paste your answers in.

Max Bell Foundation invites potential partners to begin the application process by submitting a Letter of Intent (LOI). We review LOIs to assess the extent to which they align with our purpose and granting guidelines. When the alignment appears sufficiently strong, we invite a full proposal.

The following tips might be useful to you:

- By far the most common reason the Foundation declines Letters of Intent is because they do not align with our purpose or granting guidelines. Applicants are encouraged to review the Foundation's website before submitting.
- The Foundation supports projects, not ongoing work. A project in this sense identifies a clear, measurable objective that a team sets out to achieve over a specific period of time. A proposal for a project includes a description of the set of resources and sequence of activities that are planned to achieve only that objective.
- The Foundation supports projects that aim to inform public policy choices. The more clearly applicants identify the public policy choice(s) the proposed work will inform, the more likely they are to be invited to submit a full proposal.

1a) Desired Policy/Practice Change*

What change(s) to public policy will the project help create? Please be as specific as you can. As a reminder, our working definition of public policy is:

Public policy refers to official decisions that guide the activities of governments at the local, municipal, provincial, or federal levels.

For example, public policy decisions can be expressed as legislation, resolutions, regulations, by-laws, appropriations, court decisions, etc.

Public policy refers not only to decisions, but also the programs and administrative practices undertaken by governments.
